

La Cocina

About La Cocina

To the west of the island is the Montaña Amarilla (Yellow Mountain) which gets its name from the yellowish shades of the calcareous material that it is made from. At its feet, the turquoise waters of the Bahía de la Cocina stretch out, and, on the other side, is Lanzarote, with its spectacular Risco de Famara cliffs.

Interesting Facts

Length: 100 m

Type of beach: white sand

Environment: remote